

Wine Geek Factoid #123

You might be a Wine Geek

if you know drinkers at all levels of consumption, from one drink a month to two drinks a day and more, performed better on Cognitive tests taken over time! A recent study by Columbia University shows that alcohol consumption in moderation may provide an opportunity for prevention or delay of cognitive dysfunction.

In other words, drink more wine, it's good for you!!